22nd Sunday of Ordinary Time

Today's reading from Isaiah describes the Israelites bringing their offering to the Lord "in clean vessels." The gift of myself - my patient endurance and fidelity to the will of God - is as important as the monetary gift I offer.

JUST TO KEEP YOU SMILING:

Whew, Scientific proof!! What a relief to learn this!

Ever walk into a room with some purpose in mind, only to completely forget what that purpose was?

Turns out, doors themselves are to blame for these strange memory lapses. Psychologists at the University of Notre Dame have discovered that passing through a doorway triggers what's known as an EVENT BOUNDARY in the mind separating one set of thoughts and memories from the next. Your brain files away the thoughts you had in the previous room and prepares a blank slate for the new locale.

Thank goodness for studies like this. (It's not your age, it's the door!)

Best wishes to all, as we continue to love and serve the Lord.

MEDITATION:

When I reflect on my own life, I realize that the moments of greatest comfort and consolation were moments when someone said, "I cannot take your pain away, I cannot offer you a solution to your problem, but I can promise you that I won't leave you alone and will hold onto you as long and as well as I can."

There is much grief and pain in our lives, but what a blessing it is when we do not have to live our grief and pain alone. That is the gift of compassion.
