STEWARDSHIP

"Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions."

LUKE 12:15

The Gospel message today is so contrary to our modern culture where advertising continually tries to convince us that our value lies in the things we possess. Jesus showed us that our true value lies in the way we live our lives. He challenges us to not store up or hoard material possessions, but rather to live a grateful and generous lifestyle.

Dear Parishioners,

On the weekend of Saturday and Sunday, August 14-15, 2016, our parish will take up a second collection for the Archdiocese of the Military Services. The Archdiocese was established by Pope John Paul II to provide the Catholic Church the full range of pastoral spiritual services to those in the United States Armed Forces and their families. The Archdiocese receives no government funds whatsoever, nor does it receive money from weekly collections in U.S. military chapels, as those funds are distributed according to military funding regulations.

Therefore, once every three years beginning in 2013, a special collection is to be taken up in all parishes of the United States to help fund the crucial services of military chaplains administering sacraments and to support those serving in the Armed Forces throughout the world. These funds go to support priest's ability to move between the 220 military installations in 29 countries, 153 VA Medical Centers, and combat zones and warships across the world, where they are responsible for administering sacraments and providing pastoral support.

For military families at home, the archdiocese provides catechesis programs, faith formation and support, record keeping, and other services.

Funds are also needed to help the archdiocese address the shortage of Catholic Chaplains in the military. Although 25 per cent of the military is Catholic, only 8 per cent of active duty chaplains are Catholic, in part because priests are reaching the military mandatory retirement age of 62 more quickly than the archdiocese can train new priests. Since 2001, the number of active duty priests has dropped from over 400 to 234. However, vocations within the military are on the rise. Since 2008, the vocations program within the military has grown from 7 to 36 young men studying for the priesthood, eventually to serve as chaplains.

There is also a partnership between the Archdiocese for the Military Services and local dioceses to train seminarians to become military chaplains. Through the program, each diocese sponsors part of the seminarians' training. However, even with this support, it costs the Archdiocese for the Military Services at least $75,000 to sponsor each seminarian. Over the next five years, seminary costs alone will form $2.7 million of the archdiocese's budget.

Despite the financial challenge, the future looks bright due to outside support and the hard work of those who give of themselves to their vocation.

Please give generously to the Special Collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services.

Blessings, Fr. Craig

2016

To give generously is to walk in the way of Jesus. I don't know what level of generosity may be possible for you. What is most important is that you make a gift decision in faith – one that is true to your own heart and your circumstances. In so doing, you will be blessed.

Thousands of people depend on your generosity. No matter where you turn, you will find someone who will benefit from your kindness. Thank you for your response to the Catholic Service Appeal.

We have currently received 180 pledges of $22,175. towards our parish assessment of $43,805.00 leaving a deficit of $21,630. We hope to exceed our assessment so that we can use any funds paid in excess of our assessment for use here at our parish. If you have not done so already, please consider a gift to this year's CSA.

FAITH FORMATION

The 2016-2017 Faith Formation classes will begin soon! August 13 & 14 and August 20 & 21, 2016, representatives of the Faith Formation committee/commission will be available before and after masses to take registrations for parents who wish to enter their child into the program.
